

Tent Tips:

Bird-Out Tent Cover

1. When using tent cover in windy conditions, having water in the moat provides weight and stability.
2. There must be one white clip-hook centered on each long side of the moat. (Curls facing out.) Insert both ends of the support bar into these clips.
3. Drape the vinyl cover over the support bar and hook one of the button-hole slots onto the curl of the clip, at one end of the moat.
4. Press down on the tent cover and support bar to get the “spring action” needed to hook the other end. The Bird-Out Flaps should settle into the space created by the tent.
5. To change out the food bowl, press down on the bar and unhook just one end of the cover.
